It would be hard to find a more amazing location for a property, sitting in the National Park, overlooking a reservoir and with views forever. The main house has an entrance hall with double doors, 2 excellent bedrooms, one en-suite and a second bathroom, a well equipped kitchen and a wonderful living room with windows on 3 sides and access to the terraces. Outside and into the courtyard, there is a staircase that leads to two rooms, currently used as an office and music studio.
